

HEALTH KITS FOR LATIN AMERICAN REFUGEES

Refugees from Latin America and the Caribbean coming into the United States at the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas are supplied with health kits, when they are available. The kits are distributed by the Rev. Feliberto Pereira, Director of the Southwest Good Samaritan Ministries of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) in the Southwest. These refugees have traveled long distances and often arrive in the United States with no personal belongings; they appreciate the practical items given them in the kits. Learn more about the Southwest Good Samaritan Ministries, visit their web site at www.swgsm.org.

Groups wishing to participate in this project are asked to tie together in the bath towel, or place in a plastic bag, the following items:
