Disciples Women are Breaking the Chains!

“Do you know what I want? I want justice - oceans of it. I want fairness - rivers of it. That’s what I want. That’s all I want.” Amos 5: 24 (Message translation)

Disciples Women’s Ministries are dedicated to Social Action and Justice. Disciples Women’s Ministries have committed to educating and informing communities about the issue of human trafficking.

Human Trafficking: Breaking the Chains Human trafficking is a form of modern-day slavery in which people, mostly women, very young girls and children, are abducted and/or forced to labor for someone else against their wishes. Often they are deceived into believing the situations will improve their lives, when in reality they are being forced into servitude. Human trafficking includes buying, selling and moving people from one location to another against their will, and it constitutes a grave violation of human rights. This trafficking occurs in unregulated and unprotected areas all over the world, including the United States of America. *

- What can your Women’s Ministry do? Disciples Women Can: Write letters, volunteer at a local agency, become educated through books and movies, invite a speaker to your church, and raise funds to support those who are attempting to break these chains of slavery. Go to www.discipleswomen.org and click on Social Action and Justice Opportunities.
- Just Women Magazine features articles on women and agencies who are transforming their community and world as advocates for victims of human trafficking.

Thanksgiving Is Our Dialect

“Thanksgiving is our dialect.”

This is from the Message Bible translation of Ephesians 5: 4. It was a simple and yet deep phrase. Thanksgiving should be our daily spoken and unspoken language. Read the inspirational reflections from your sisters and take time to meditate on your own. Are you fluent in Thanksgiving?

“I am thankful for God’s forgiveness and AMAZING GRACE. I press forward toward the mark of the prize, which is Christ Jesus!”

Marilyn Williams

“I am grateful for loving caring and very strict parents, and my brother and his family. I am thankful for my church.”

Karen Barrett

“I am thankful to be chosen by God to do His ministry with my sisters in Christ. Working with Disciples Women’s Ministry is an awesome gift that God has anointed me to do.”

Wanona Redd

“I am thankful for the displays of love that God allows me to experience through family, friends and colleagues who hold my best at heart. I am also thankful for the beauty of God’s creation that often disrupts the monotony of a day and reminds me how awesome God is.”

Lashaundra Smith

“My heart overflows with gratitude. I am grateful for my health and the grace to live and love everyday. For family that supports me and friends who understand me, I give God thanks and praise.”

Chesla Nickelson

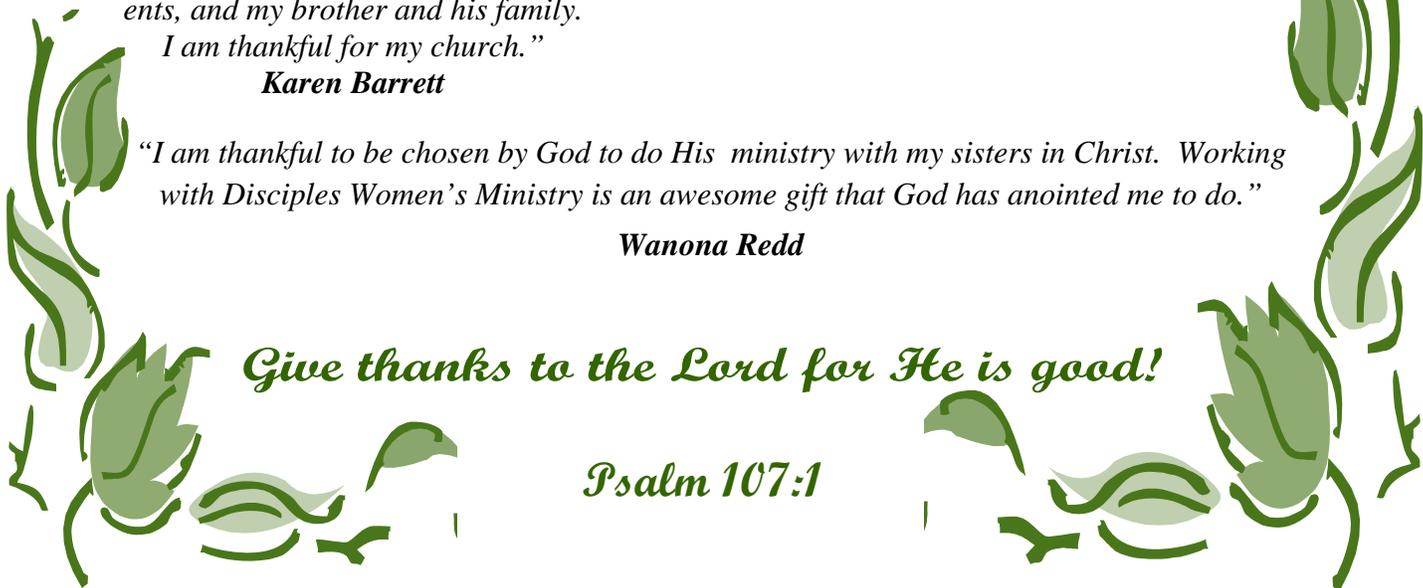

Give thanks to the Lord for He is good!

Psalm 107:1

What is one of the greatest ways to show someone you truly care?

It’s quite simple, take the time to share.

Journey to the Congos by Janie Troublefield

This is final installment of Janie Troublefield's reflections of her journey to the Democratic Republic and Republic of the Congos

Mama Nzeba with her educational program, the sewing program, and the sisters with their soap-making venture changed my whole outlook on life. I have heard so many in our country complain about what they cannot do in a land that has so much to offer. Yet, our Congolese sisters have so little in their country but you never hear them talk about what they cannot do.

They always present a way in which they can do things. I am so impressed with them. I can never forget their smiles, excitement, and energy as they told about their different economic ventures. I find myself not wanting so many material things now that I have returned home. I know it does not help my Congolese sisters. However, I believe my journey to the Congo was to have a two-way effect. Yes, it was meant for me to experience what our sisters experience everyday of their lives, and to help me see where I can help them now that I have returned home. However, I also believe it was to help us (The Woman-To-Woman 2011 Representatives) become better acquainted with ourselves.

It was to help us as we journey through life to forget about always wanting so much materialistic stuff, but to realize we are to reach out and help others who are truly less fortunate than we are in so many things like clean water, nutritious food, education, medical care, etc.
