

Keys To Success

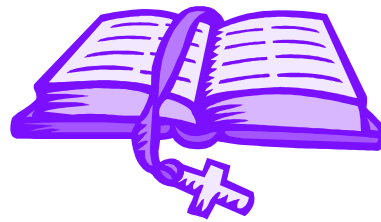

There are several characteristics that have become apparent as keys to successful Disciples Men organizations. Below are just a few to help you get started. These can be used as “ice breakers” in your discussion about starting a men’s group within your congregation.

Men become enthusiastic when they are around other men who are consistently enthusiastic and who are committed and dedicated to a common cause.

Men are excited about coming together as men to celebrate life as men and are enthusiastic about all-male worship services.

Men are enthusiastic about doing something that they can “own”.

Men enjoy and appreciate projects/studies that they can follow through to completion.

Men are interested in Bible Study.

Not every man fits one program.

Men respond to praise and recognition.
